Fundraising to Add to Successful Events

Dedication Cards

- During the month of October our cause of the month is Breast Cancer Awareness
- Along with other items we sell are donation cards
- The donation cards don't cost us any money, so we don't have to pay anything back out of the money that is raised with it.
- The cards are sold for a dollar and the person who buys it writes their name on it or a name they would like to honor on it. Then we hang up the cards outside our cafeteria where everyone in the school can see.
- We called American Cancer Society to get these donation cards and they sent it to us for free.

Winter Wishes

- The winter wishes are small paper ornaments with wintery designs on them that we sell for a dollar.
- The wishes are bought by a student to sell to a friend.
- After they are bought, the student colors the ornament and writes a note on the back.
- The student council then puts the ornament on the locker that the student sent it to along with other wintery decorations like snowflakes and blue ribbon.

Collection Bottles

- Instead of paying the $7 registration fee for our Dance-A-Thon, students can get a bottle from the student council with the approved label on it and fill it all of the way with change.
- The bottle will end up with more money than $7 so we end up making more money than if the student just paid $7.

Shout Outs

- At big events like Powder Puff and Mr. SBHS we sell shout outs to participants in the event for a dollar.
- The shout outs are then announced during the event for everyone to hear.

Buy a Bash

- On a friend's birthday a student can buy a bash from student council
- During the birthday person's lunch on an A day the student council will go and pour confetti on the student and encourage others in the lunch room to sing happy birthday.
- You can decide how much to sell the bashes for depending on the level of the demand in your school.
